A.F. Of L. Chief, at E. Liverpool, Praises Potters' Anti-Japanese Campaign

WILLIAM GREEN ALSO TAKES RAP AT CIO LEADER

Bonfire of "Made In Japan" Boxes Signals Parade Start

ESTIMATE 3,000 IN PROCESSION

Unity of Purpose between Pottery Capital, Labor Stressed

EAST LIVERPOOL, Dec. 14.—Organized potters of the tri-state ceramics district said today they expected their anti-Japanese boycott, spurred by a parade of American Federation of Labor workers, would spread immediately to other labor unions throughout the country.

James M. Duffy, president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, declared the demonstration made him "feel more confident than in all my 11 years as head of this brotherhood that we are getting somewhere—that labor will take up the movement all over the nation."

Green "Deeply Touched"

William Green, AFL president, who watched the parade and afterward addressed a mass meeting of 1,400 persons, said he was "deeply touched" by the demonstration. He pledged the federation to "make real the boycott against Japan for her barbarous war in China."

A bonfire of cardboard boxes labeled "Made in Japan" and "Made in Czechoslovakia" signaled the start of the parade, in which police said "easily 3,000" marched. Several more thousand residents of this "Crockery City" lined the sidewalks in 10-above-zero temperatures to see the marching potters, salesmen, butchers, truck drivers and other union members.

One marcher trailed an improvised jirrikisha bearing the slogans "We are tired making it soft for the Japs—buy American," and "This is the Mikado's last ride in this man's town." Inside the shay was a worker wearing an Oriental mask.

Duffy said the competition of Japanese ceramics had hit especially hard in this district, where he estimated the potteries employ 6,000 persons. Some of the marchers' banners touched on these imports.

"Meats taste better on American dishes," one read, and another: "Keep the kiln fires burning."

Green Assails Lewis

President Green not only placed his stamp of approval on the boycott movement, but made the occasion one to bitterly condemn John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization as a movement of "a ruthless minority with a siren voice preaching destructive philosophy of hate to set class against class in America and divide the nation."

Green, however, said the way is open for the CIO dissenters to return to the AFL but he declared it to be the warning that the Federation will remain steadfast in its support of American principles and the Constitution and will never yield to minority forces that employ such un-American methods as sit-down strike.

"The AFL," declared Green, "will never yield to the law of the jungle or force. It will never surrender to."

Green Greets Pottery Workers

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, at East Liverpool last night to speak in connection with an anti-Japanese rally sponsored by the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, meets officials and members of the pottery union. He is shown above shaking hands with workers and others prior to his address. At Green's left is James Duffy, president of the brotherhood.

Nation's Difficulties Are Political, Not Economic, Says Ayres In Forecast

Cooperation Between Government, Business Necessary In Recovery Movement

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 14.—Economic Leonard Porter Ayres looked ahead toward 1938 today. Both industrial production and stock prices, he predicted, probably will average lower than in 1936 and 1937.

"They will be nearer the figures of 1934 and 1935," he said. Wholesale prices, he forecast, also "will probably be lower next year than they have been this year," and automobile production likely "will be smaller by from 25 to 35 per cent."

Ayres, 58-year-old war statistician who has been a Cleveland Trust Co. vice president since 1920, appraised "prospects for business in 1938" in his annual address to the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

He said it was impossible to make many definite forecasts "for the outcomes depend upon decisions that will be made in Washington."

"We have all the economic requisites for prosperity," he declared. "Our difficulties are political, not economic. We need cooperation between government and business. If that can be attained we can have a resumption of recovery."

"It seems probable that the bottom of the present slump in industrial production will be reached in the first half of next year, for operations have been curtailed so rapidly that in many lines we are already producing less than we are consuming. The recovery from that low point is bound to be much slower than the descent."

Lisbon Debates Possible Steps In Anti-Jap Crusade

LISBON, Dec. 14.—The Lisbon Chamber of Commerce at a meeting in city hall Monday discussed the possibility of promoting a Japanese goods boycott in the village, but deferred action until the January meeting of the group.

Election of officers will be held then. The nominating committee picked by President Clyde Hadley includes James Hanna, Robert Dorrance and D. S. McMinn.

Appointed to the committee to aid the Kiwanis club in erecting a community Christmas tree this season are C. L. Robinson, G. V. Ellis and W. D. Edgerton.

Refuses Operation

COLUMBUS, Dec. 14.—Dr. Eugene Clarke, an Ohio penitentiary physician, said today that Charles E. Wheeland, former Uhrichville bank president serving a 10 to 30-year embezzlement term, was in danger of death from a stomach ailment but that Wheeland refused to submit to an operation.

The conferees made a preliminary canvass of 800 names in alphabetical order in a nine-hour session behind closed doors.

Outside observers speculated upon at least four names as possible choices for chairman of the steering group: President E. M. Hopkins of Dartmouth; James Truslow Adams, the historian; Senator Fredrick Steiwer of Oregon; and John H. Wigmore, Chicago legal authority.

F.D.R. MESSAGE DELIVERED TO JAPS' EMPEROR

Hirohito Himself Reads Roosevelt Protest On Bombing

STRANGE SCENES IN TOKYO STREETS

Jap "Man On the Street" Expresses Sorrow To Americans

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, Dec. 14.—The gist of President Roosevelt's memorandum demanding full satisfaction for the sinking of the United States gunboat Panay was delivered today to Emperor Hirohito, one of the highest government officials disclosed.

It was reported the memorandum was received quietly.

The formal delivery of the protest was preceded by a diplomatic note to the United States which, in effect, met beforehand the major points of President Roosevelt's demands.

Shows Jap Attitude

The high government source said the prompt delivery of the demands to the emperor itself best illustrated the attitude of the Japanese government regarding the attack on the Panay.

"It shows the extent of Japan's eagerness to face the music squarely," he said.

Official and unofficial sentiment—the latter including even personal expressions toward Americans from the Japanese man in the street—seemed to indicate a readiness to accept the responsibility and to make all possible amends.

This unofficial attitude brought strange scenes in Tokyo streets and public places where Americans met the Japanese public.

The Japanese stopped Americans in their rounds, removing their hats and gravely expressing their sorrow for the incident. The fact that most of the Americans failed to understand was no deterrent.

Average Japanese citizens visited numerous American business offices, tendering their regrets. Taxi drivers and even waitresses conveyed similar expressions.

Three Points Stressed

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota sent to United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew the note which:

1. Expressed apologies and regrets;
2. Promised indemnification;
3. Stated measures to prevent a recurrence of the incident already had been taken.

Grew received from Washington a statement to present to the Japanese government. Its contents were not disclosed but it was said to be in line with President Roosevelt's memorandum.

The statement from Washington and the foreign office note virtually coincided.

President Roosevelt's memorandum had asked that the Japanese government consider for presentation to the government of the United States full expressions of regret and proffer of full compensation and methods guaranteeing against a repetition of any similar attack.

Judges To Stay

COLUMBUS, Dec. 14.—Chief Justice Carl V. Weygand refused today to disqualify Franklin county common pleas court judges from hearing a $42,000,000 damage suit against the Columbia Gas & Electric Corp. and six affiliates, charged in the suit filed by City Attorney John L. Davies with adulterating natural gas. The Ohio Fuel Gas company, a defendant, had alleged prejudice.

G.O.P. Passes Half-way Mark In Name Sorting

Chairman Hamilton, In Meantime, Says He Refuses To Be Read Out of Party

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14.—By meeting after midnight the Republican executive committee pushed well past the half-way mark today in its strenuous sorting of 1,000 nominees for a policy committee of 100 while the party's national chairman, John D. M. Hamilton, lashed vigorously at his critics.

The conferees made a preliminary canvass of 800 names in alphabetical order in a nine-hour session behind closed doors.

Outside observers speculated upon at least four names as possible choices for chairman of the steering group: President E. M. Hopkins of Dartmouth; James Truslow Adams, the historian; Senator Fredrick Steiwer of Oregon; and John H. Wigmore, Chicago legal authority.

No One Approached

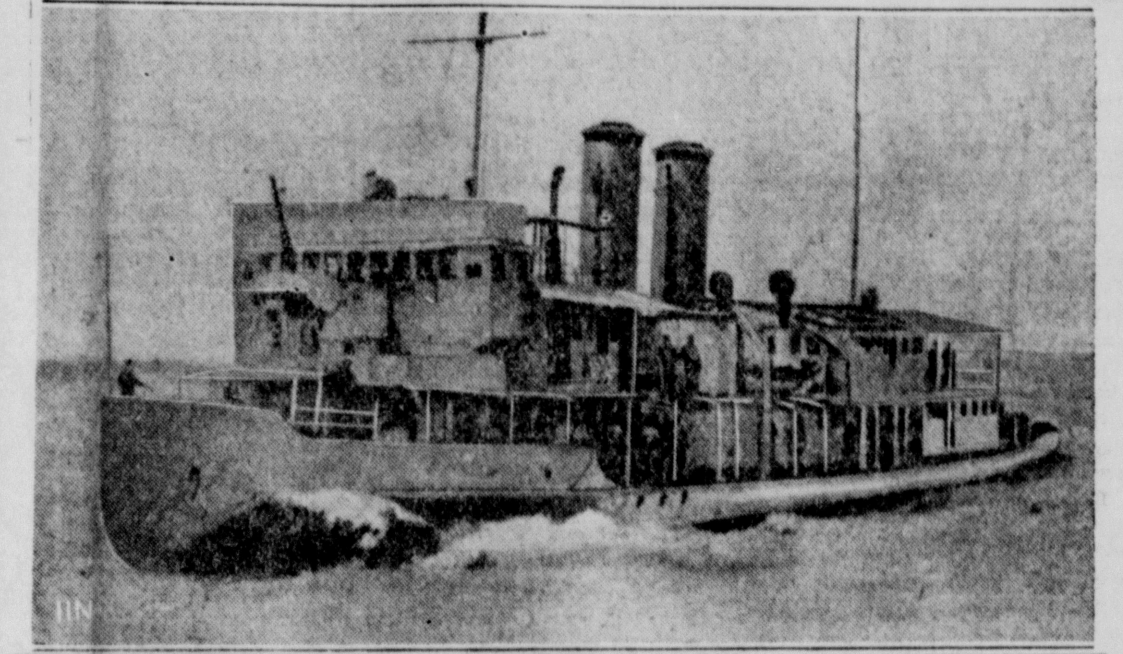

Hamilton said the meeting, which may "possibly decide the future of the party and even possibly the future of the nation," had approached no one as yet for committee membership and "certainly no one for the chairmanship."

Aside from the deliberations Hamilton made a stream of rebuttals to Robert W. Johnson, New Jersey industrialist, and others who have called for his own retirement.

"No one has the right to read me or anyone out of the party," Hamilton said.

"I challenge anyone to point to a period when there has been greater constructive activity in the Republican national committee and its headquarters at so long a time

Stricken Panay and Leading Figures In Japanese Bombing

Carrying American embassy officials and refugees from Nanking, the United States gunboat "Panay," shown above, was sunk in the Yangtze river by a Japanese air raid.

His visit to the President followed a conference with Hiroshi Saito, center, Japanese ambassador to the United States, who conveyed the official regrets of the Japanese nation to the U. S., as a result of the sinking of the ship.

Right—Lieutenant Commander J. J. Hughes, in command of the Panay, sustained a broken leg when the ship was bombed.

RELIEF NEARING FINAL APPROVAL

Senate Acts On 3 Measures; Davey Gets 4th Bill Today

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Dec. 14.—Stop-gap measures making available four million dollars for immediate relief financing headed today toward final enactment by the legislature.

Having completed passage last night of a bill to make $1,000,000 immediately available, the senate prepared to take final action on three more measures which would add $3,000,000.

The $1,000,000 bill awaits only the signatures of presiding officers before being sent to the governor this afternoon. Governor Davey is expected to sign it forthwith as it comprises part of the administration relief program.

LISBON DRIVES ON COMMUNISM

East Liverpool Post Asks Investigation of Alleged Activities in County

LISBON, Dec. 14.—C. V. McCullough, assistant in the veteran's service office here, has been requested by Prosecutor Karl Stouffer to make a full investigation into reported communistic activities in the county.

The request followed reports to the prosecutor that Red agents were active in various parts of the county, spreading "subversive propaganda." A specific complaint was entered against a man said to be operating in the vicinity of Rogers.

The agent is said to be an avowed Communist who operates among grange organizations. Although he was mentioned specifically, members of the local American Legion post stated several other agents were active in this vicinity.

Stouffer, in his letter to McCullough, indicated the matter would be referred to the grand jury or to federal authorities if the facts warranted such action.

Balan Re-elected By Luther League

Dan Balan was re-elected president of the Luther league of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church at a business meeting of the league last night.

Other officers elected are: Vice president, William Hiltbrand; recording secretary, Evelyn Tullis; corresponding secretary, Bela Sidinger; treasurer, Florence Hiltbrand; pianist, Erna Pauline; assistant pianist, Doris and Dorothy Hinkle. Plans for a New Year's watch party at the church, Dec. 31, were made.

Represents Lisbon At Boycott Program

LISBON, Dec. 14.—Mayor G. Cecil Rauch represented Lisbon at the activities in East Liverpool Monday evening in connection with that city's boycott of Japanese goods.

The mayor was invited by James M. Duffy, president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, who, with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, were the leading figures in the demonstration.

WOMAN VICTIM OF TRAGEDY ON N. BENTON ROAD

Mrs. Raymond Roberts, 34, Cleveland, Succumbs After Crash

THREE OTHERS IN HOSPITAL HERE

Driver Escapes As Train Crushes Truck Near Disposal Plant

A Cleveland woman was killed and three other persons seriously hurt in a head-on crash of two automobiles on State Route 14, three miles northwest of Salem, at 7 p. m. Monday.

The victim, Mrs. Raymond Roberts, 34, of 7623 Clark ave., Cleveland, died in Salem City hospital at 10:50 p. m., after the machine in which she was riding with her nephew, Anthony Demmerle, 22, of the same address, was struck by a car operated by David T. Morgan, 53, of R. D. 1, Perry.

Autos Jammed Together

Both vehicles were wedged together by the force of the impact, State Highway Patrolmen W. E. Aray and R. M. Perry said. The crash occurred just one mile beyond the Pennsylvania railroad underpass.

The fourth person hurt is Miss Agnes Mae Nealon, 25, of 2204 Wascana ave., Lakewood, who also was riding in Demmerle's car.

Mrs. Roberts died as the result of internal and head injuries. She was crushed badly.

Demmerle, unable to give an accurate account of the accident, suffered a fractured right shoulder, an injury to his right knee and laceration of the left eye. His condition is fair.

Morgan, riding alone in the other car, received a fractured right foot and severe laceration of his nose. His condition is said to be fair.

Miss Nealon suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and lacerations and also lacerations of the lower lip. All of the injured received body bruises and suffered from shock.

Demmerle's car was traveling north at the time, while Morgan was south-bound. Morgan was reported on the wrong side of the road.

Train Hits Truck

No one was injured in a train-truck collision which happened about an hour before the Benton rd. tragedy.

Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer and Patrolman Paul Ormsby said a truck driven by Carl White, 43, of the Goshen rd., stalled on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at the crossing near the disposal plant and was demolished by a west-bound passenger train at 6:08 p. m.

White, police said, got out of the machine but was unable to flag down the train.

AWAIT WORD ON WPA INCREASE

Lisbon Authorities Announce Information on Plans Is Sought from Government

LISBON, Dec. 14.—Although recent WPA personnel increases authorized by the government will affect Columbiana county advantageously, local WPA authorities Monday had received no definite information regarding future plans here.

"Information of this nature must come from district headquarters at Akron," representatives of the county office stated. "We can't say at present how many additional men the new allocation will provide."

Approximately 900 WPA workers are employed on various county projects. About 400 work on the county's secondary road program. Another 125 have been assigned to the East Liverpool sewer project.

A total of 800 are employed on construction programs of one kind or another.

One hundred workers have been assigned to professional projects, including special work at the court house as well as sewing projects in various parts of the county. A recent grant by the government will permit the retention of women working on sewing assignments for several months.

Although Washington sources recently notified newspapers that the grant had been approved of official confirmation is still lacking here.

Lisbon Man Hurt

LISBON, Dec. 14.—James Green, Vine st., is in a serious condition at Salem City hospital as the result of a fall sustained Saturday afternoon while walking on icy pavements.

Mr. Green sustained a fractured right hip when he slipped and fell on East Lincoln way sidewalk in the business district.

HE BLUSHES VERY PRETTILY

Joseph P. Kennedy, the new deal's "tame capitalist," has red hair. Most redheads blush very prettily. If he's not an exception, his family must have found him charming last week.

It was rumored he was going to be the next ambassador to the Court of St. James, replacing Robert W. Bingham, who is ill. Immediately, the objection was raised that unless this government had need of its most capable man abroad, Mr. Kennedy should be kept at home.

For he—a capitalist, who made most of his money in Wall Street—is the new deal's best man. As far as is known he has held more positions than anyone else. Certainly he has more successes—first as chairman of the securities and exchange commission, then as negotiator of a truce between Mr. Roosevelt and the utilities, then as chairman of the maritime commission and now, it is said, he will go to London for his biggest task, which could be nothing else but a trade agreement and a war debt settlement with Great Britain.

And isn't it interesting that the one new dealer with a reputation for getting things done is, of all things, a businessman, yea even a Wall Streeter? It must be the reason why the President would like to break more of them to work in harness for his team.

48 OF THEM

There is this that can be said briefly about the political situation of 48 state governors:—

They are 48 separate voices for the expression of popular opinion on political issues—voices more powerful and independent than the voices of senators, who must protect their Washington interests.

In Ohio, Gov. Davey, once believed to be a new deal puppet, has found a mind of his own. Gov. Lehman of New York, a close personal friend of President Roosevelt, threw one of the largest monkey wrenches into the President's court packing scheme.

Gov. Charles M. Martin of Oregon—he's a Democrat, too—has taken exception recently to the wisdom and majesty of the national labor relations board and its star chamber proceedings by ordering a state supervised collective bargaining election in a lumber mill which has run afoul of the great federal run-around.

The main trouble with states' rights was apathy; no one cared about them any more. It wouldn't be surprising if the unexpected result of the new deal's attempt to take advantage of that situation would be to rehabilitate the prestige of the states—and of state governors.

HIS CONTRIBUTION

With all respect for the talents of Benito Mussolini, which are great and numerous, it is the privilege of long range guessers to suspect he may be known to posterity chiefly as the man who acted and looked as a dictator should act and look.

Il Duce, to put it more bluntly, has the best developed dramatic sense of any first rate politician of his time. Take the announcement of Italy's withdrawal from the League of Nations, for instance.

For several days in advance, suspense was built up. A great crowd was assembled after dark to hear the announcement from the dictator's own lips. The whole thing was timed perfectly to get a good play in Sunday newspapers wherever Sunday newspapers were printed.

What Premier Mussolini had to say wasn't, as a matter of fact, half so sensational nor much more important than the way he said it and the way he made the people react to it. That is something more than half the art of dictatorship.

IT PINCHES

The significance of Premier Mussolini's editorial outburst against the threat of trade treaties as the most effective anti-fascist reply to fascist militarism is that the threat must hurt, or he wouldn't take the trouble to retort to it.

"In a supremely idiotic dilemma," writes Il Duce, "butter or cannon, we have made our choice—cannon."

Yes, it is a supremely idiotic dilemma, particularly when it's described by a pat phrase—butter or cannon. For Premier Mussolini knows what everybody knows, that you can survive without cannon, but not without butter.

That, it's safe to guess, is what hurts Italy's dictator so much he feels he must acknowledge the fact that the shoe Italy is wearing under his direction pinches.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—The defenders of Broadway, so shockingly depopulated by the Hollywood hegira, insist that those who have made the trek soon tire of the sunshine, the Spanish palazzo and mosaic-lined swimming pool. And in a short time are sighing for Times Square.

Yet when Sidney Skolsky, a confirmed Broadwayite, was reassigned to the street after four years in Hollywood by his paper, he chuckled his job with the ringing accolade: "Broadway is dead!" While it may not be completely moribund, it is absurd to claim the old time lure.

Only a skeleton of the legitimate theatre is left for the danse Macabre. It takes a top notch stage star to make $1,000 a week—a stipend that would receive the merry ha ha across the Mojave. Too, on the coast they are soon converted to the pleasure of simplicity, early up, early to bed.

It is true some of the old timers develop a nostalgia for former scenes and they come back, lounge about the Lambs, stroll along a Broadway that has become largely honky-tonk, and in a few days are quite ready to hit the old Santa Fe trail again.

Corey Ford's correspondence letterheads at his retreat near Freedom, New Hampshire, where he turns out his corking stories, are gotten up in the manner of the Ozark county store. They are weighty with such homely trade boosting axioms as: "A Ford writ story is a good writ story. Get your writings off Ford." And: "All kinds of writing done quick and neat." Across the bottom is strung this: "Rabbit hounds, bird dogs, guns, cameras, fishing tackle, bot, sold and swapped." Ford's roommate and companion during his New York days is also a literary isolationist. Being Frank Sullivan, who cannot be budgeted out of his native Saratoga Springs.

New York no longer has any outstanding Cameo Kirby. Such as Richard Canfield, Honest John Kelley and the like. The only notorious gambler I ever met was Arnold Rothstein, who, pistoled in a New York hotel, refused to name his assassins. He had written a courteous note about something in my column and suggested I drop in to see him in his neighborhood. His stationery read "Insurance Broker." I had, of course, seen him around, a fellow with fever-bright eyes in a face the sickly shade of a flounder's belly. In restaurants he always demanded a seat with back to wall and invariably traveled with his bodyguard. I never got around to calling, but one evening in a drug store off Times Square a mutual friend introduced us. He was soft-voiced, quite shy and with a few exchanges of monosyllabic talk seemed anxious to hurry on. In restaurants afterward when I was there he would frequently send over a waiter to suggest a complimentary bottle of wine. But never, wherever we were, did he offer to speak and if I caught his eye he would look quickly away.

Most of the romanzas about the sleek and dapper Nick the Greek have the Paul Bunyan genesis. Reputedly a wizard with dice, he is often rumored to arrive in town and risk $100,000 on a single throw. Also frequently rated as worth $500,000 one day and making a quick touch for fare to Philadelphia the next. Yet a gambling fellow tells me he is one of the showy players and rarely loses or wins more than $500, but the impression is etched that he is a reckless plunger.

Experts in reactions to gambling say Flo Ziegfeld could win or lose a huge amount with less emotional reaction than anyone who enjoyed betting as a diversion. Win or lose, there was not a flicker of change in his facial expression. He used to play in the highest stake poker game in town, one indulged by a select coterie of millionaires at an upper avenue hotel. He was desperate one night for funds to launch a current follies, and when the last hand was played at 3 a. m. he was $80,000 loser. Yet he went sound asleep driving to his hotel, nine blocks away.

I sympathize with mumbler along the highway. Give me a desolated block on a dark night and I'll probably talk out loud. Tonight a mumbler ahead was saying: "I'm not so handsome, but I'm as purty as the mug she married." That was a tellin' 'em! Eh, fat lady?

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, December 15

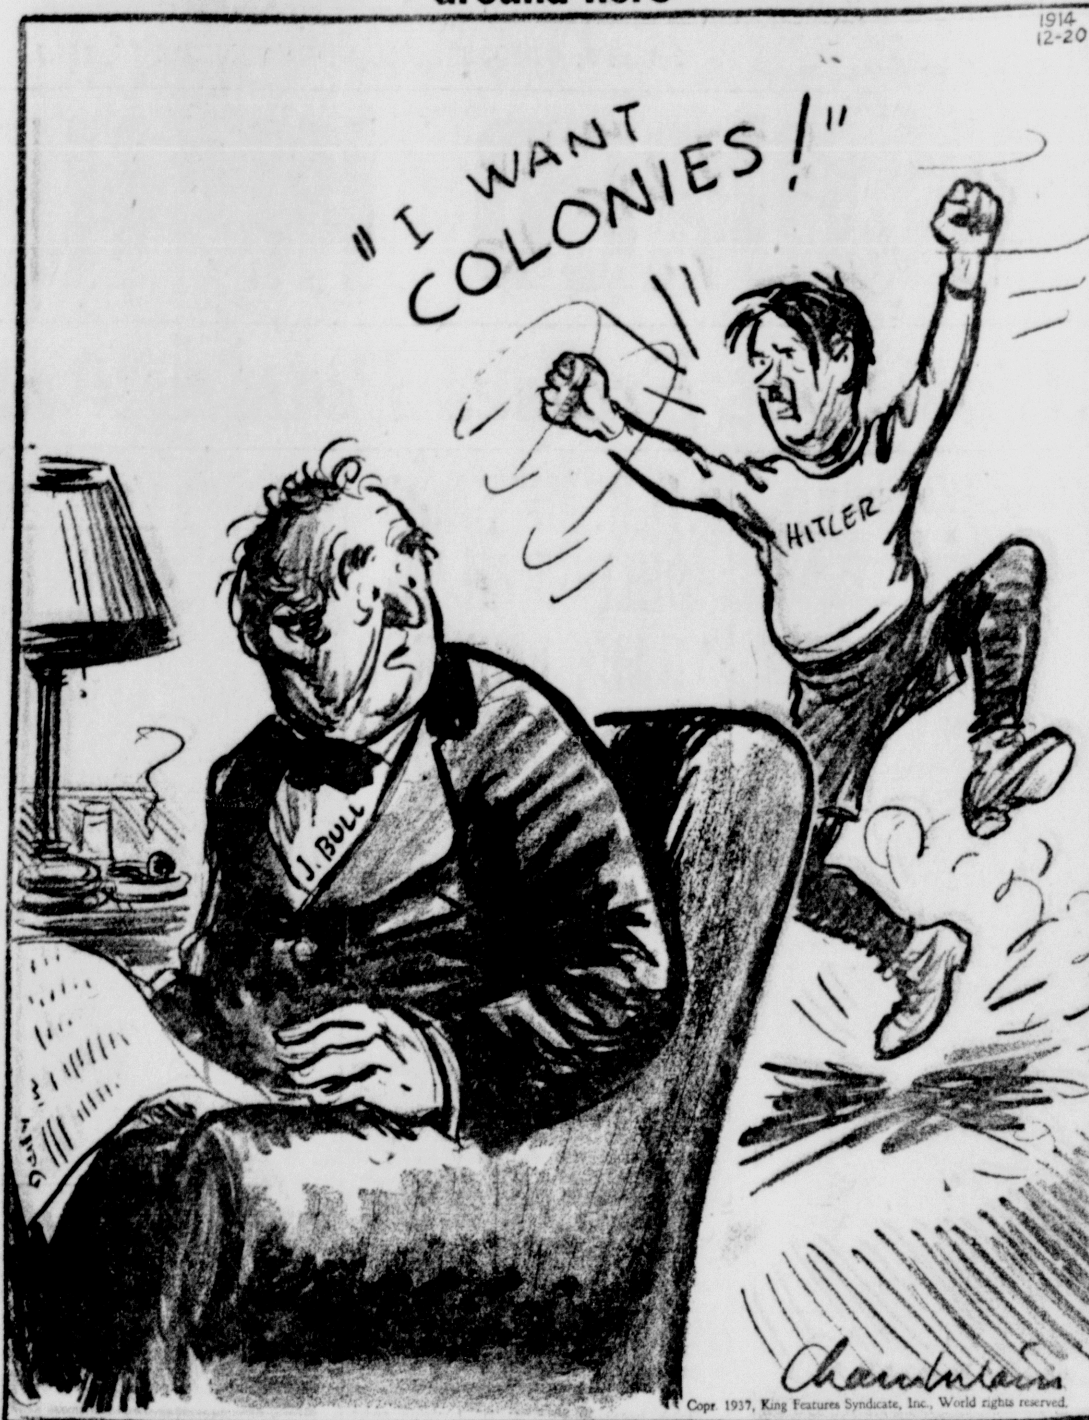

A day of high pressure and excitement is forecast from the ruling lunar aspects. However, certain benefits may be nullified by impetuosity, bad temper and hasty and restless acts. New projects, particularly in connection with combines, mergers, diplomatic, political or secret societies, are favored, mainly through strategy or subtle understandings. Sudden news should stir energy and ambition, and private affiliations should bring happiness.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very lively year, with news from a distance as the inspiration. But refrain from haste and reckless, impetuous, quarrelsome activities. Deal with mergers, secret bodies or political or diplomatic circles, or by subtle rather than direct measures. Happiness in the home is promised.

A child born on this day may be lively, energetic and constructive, but it may be carried away by impulse, strife, jealousy or stubbornness. But it should be personally kindly and approachable. It may lean toward sports and athletics.

"Maybe if I got him some we'd have a little peace around here"

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

INFECTED TEETH

"DEAD TEETH" and their relationship to health have always excited much controversy. This confusion of thought puzzles the layman because one dentist tells him to have the dead teeth removed while another advises against its removal.

Pulpless teeth, dead teeth, are possessed by millions of persons. There is no doubt that many harbor such teeth without being aware of their presence. Often infection is present without giving any sign. Such a focus or center of infection undoubtedly plays a part in many of the so-called constitutional disorders. That many of its poisons will be absorbed into the system is almost a certainty if pus is present. When this occurs, other structures and organs of the body may be endangered.

Pulpless teeth, when no pus has formed, are harmless enough. But if infection is definitely present, and that fact is confirmed by an x-ray examination, there should be no hesitancy about extraction.

Examinations Needed
All those who have dead teeth and are unwilling to have them removed should have periodic x-ray examinations. Since pulpless teeth are without sensitiveness, it is only by means of the x-ray that pus or over evidence of infection can be detected. These examinations should be repeated at regular times so that there shall be no oversight of a possible infection.

No one is anxious to lose his teeth. I regard it as fortunate that the present trend is against the ruthless extraction of teeth. But as I have indicated, if definite evidence exists for their removal, it is unwise to delay.

In many instances there may be a question of doubt as to the proper procedure. Under such circumstances, I believe that close co-operation between the patient, dentist and doctor will solve the problem. If there is any sign of a constitutional disorder and no explanation can be found, the teeth must be examined. In that event if dead teeth are present in the mouth, it is best that they be removed.

I cannot overstate the importance of periodic visits to the dentist. Protect your teeth against dental decay and you will guard the entrance place of germs and disease. If in doubt, your doctor and dentist will outline the necessary precautions that should be taken.

Why Use Pills or Purgatives?

The purpose of most cathartics is to over-stimulate your intestines. Afterward, you may feel weakened. In cases of common constipation, isn't it better to keep "regular" with a wholesome NATURAL food like Kellogg's All-Bran?

All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the time-table—but it works so differently from medicines. It doesn't over-stimulate your intestines; it gives them TWO things they need. First, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. Next, vitamin "B"—All-Bran is a good source of this vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Use All-Bran REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons every day and drink plenty of water. The results will delight you! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Beauty's A Charm" by HARRIET HINSDALE

CHAPTER XXVII

If Lucy Lee tried to forget Hollywood, it was because Hollywood had forgotten her. What had become of the many who had made gestures of friendship which had appeared so authentic? Where were the scores who had called her Lucy Lee, greeted her so affectionately in the studio, at various restaurants, along the Boulevard and in the theaters? Girls who had put their arms about her, whispering confidences and gay gossip. Men who had talked of her beauty, her charm, her brilliant future—when they were not talking of their own beauties, charms and futures. Vanished, as though they had never been.

When the nurse came in, one afternoon soon after Dr. Hale's talk with Ames and Wakefield Carter, it was to find the patient dozing, her cheek against a mass of pink and white roses. Making a sign to Don Ames, who had followed her to the door, the nurse whispered: "She's asleep. I'm afraid you can't see her now. She had a restless night and I don't like to disturb her."

"But I've got to talk to her, nurse. This is important. I wouldn't insist if it weren't."

"Very well." The nurse stepped aside and he entered.

"Lucy Lee."

"Yes?" The dark lashes came slowly up and Lucy Lee stared at her visitor. "Why, what's the matter, Don? You look so excited. Has anything happened?"

"Plenty! Listen, baby—don't you get nervous. Everything's okay and I'm trying to break it to you gently. Lucy Lee—a report has come in that Bruce Loring and Clyde Dixon have been found, and it sounds like the goods."

"What?" Her eyes grew larger—enormous. "Clyde... you mean... he isn't dead?" She sat up quickly, the first time she had done so unaided since the accident, and leaned forward eagerly. "Tell me," she demanded breathlessly.

"I got the tip-off from a pal of mine over in the N. P. N. publicity office. He says a telegram came in an hour ago from some town on the Mexican coast, signed Bruce Loring and saying he and Dixon are safe and well. It sounds on the up and up, unless the whole thing is some kind of a frame or a publicity gag or something."

"But how could it be? That would be wicked! To make people believe they were alive, if it isn't so?"

"Well, you never know what some punks can cook up to grab off a little notoriety. But if it's on the level then Bruce Loring and Dixon are alive. The studio is sending a plane down to investigate and bring 'em back, if it's true."

"Oh, Don... I'm afraid to let myself believe it. If there is some mistake I don't think I can bear it. Not a second time."

"I know. That's why I dashed over here to tell you myself. So you wouldn't get it over the radio, maybe, or have some dumb cluck calling up to spring the news on you by phone. The story is leaking out and I'll bet there'll be extras on the street in another hour. You ought to hear Hollywood buzz. God, what a story!"

"But what happened? Where have they been all these weeks?"

"Don't I wish I knew? All this wire said was that they were both okay but broke and to send a plane down to this Mexican village at once. The way I figure it, their own plane came down somewhere so far from civilization that they have been all this time getting back. Perhaps one of them was hurt. It could have happened that way, you know. That is, if it isn't a hoax."

"Don't keep saying that, please. I can't stand it. It must be true—it must!"

Ames was pacing the floor excitedly now, his hair on end as he ran nervous fingers through it. He had not even noticed that Lucy Lee, suddenly weak, lay back against her pillows; as the fact that she had sat up alone had also failed to register on his consciousness.

"If it's true, I'm telling you this is the biggest story that ever broke in Hollywood! Can you feature the headlines? Why, this lad Dixon is made—absolutely made!"

"How do you mean?"

"What would have happened if there had been another guy with Lindbergh, say? When he crossed the Atlantic. Would he have cashed in on the Lindbergh triumph? I'm not saying that Bruce Loring is another Lone Eagle exactly, but I'll bet he gets almost as much publicity out of this. And if Dixon is handled right—"

He stopped in his excited pacing and looked down conitely at Lucy Lee's white face. "Gosh, the nurse told me not to tire you. When it comes to breaking news gently I guess I'm an absolute bust!"

"I'm all right, Don. Don't worry about me. Nothing matters except Clyde."

The nurse came in, disapproval written large in the way she walked across to Lucy Lee's bed and smoothed her pillows. "Time is up, Mr. Ames," she said severely.

There followed hours of waiting which seemed like years. Radio announcers scattered generalities with prodigal tongues, to cover the lack of any authoritative information.

Sleep came only in fitful snatches to Lucy Lee that night, when heavy eyelids dropped in spite of her efforts to keep them open. Her soul waited in a sort of void, suspended in nothingness, as if life itself were halted, breathlessly.

The ringing of the bedside telephone at her elbow, some time after midnight, came like a summons. It was Don Ames speaking. "Hold everything, Lucy Lee," he cried, his voice hoarse with excitement. "It's true!"

"Oh, Don."

"They're both alive and on their way here. The plane stopped at Agua Caliente and Loring telephoned to the studio. Haven't got time to give you the dope now, because I'm on my way to catch a ship taking off to meet them. You watch for them in a few hours, coming up from San Diego with a whole fleet of escort planes. The boys are gonna have the biggest reception ever pulled off in these parts. G'bye!"

After that, it was a question of staring out into the night over the city's myriad glittering lights until the new day was born.

Then, as if they had waited for the scene to be properly lighted, into the glory of the dawning day came a fleet of giant birds up from the south, the steady hum of their motors sounding clearly in the profound hush of early morning.

The plane in the lead had two passengers, both of whom looked down toward the earth with considerable interest as the ship approached the landing field. "I wonder what all those people and cars are doing down there," Clyde Dixon said with puzzled frown. "Some crowd. There must be thousands—"

"Waiting to see us," Bruce Loring replied casually. "Quite a mob, at that, for so early in the morning."

"Do you mean to say all those folks got up before breakfast just to watch us land?"

Loring's hearty laugh rang out and he clapped his companion on the shoulder. "You don't seem to savvy this thing yet, Clyde. You and I are famous, boy. Famous."

"You always were, Bruce."

"Oh, no, I wasn't. Not by a damned sight. All the first twenty-nine of my thirty years might have been spent on that Robinson Crusoe island we just got away from, as far as the general public was concerned. But I've learned a lot about mobs since then. They're funny things—crowds like that one down there."

"Gosh!" Clyde Dixon said fervently.

No sooner had the plane made a landing and the two passengers alighted, than the crowd surged about them. Voices called: "Hello, Bruce." "Howdy, Clyde." "Howsa boys?" "You don't look very dead."

"I'll say we're not," Loring yelled back, waving to the delighted crowd. Hands clutched at them, progress was almost impossible through the tightly packed ranks of eager on-lookers.

Studio officials attempted to make their way toward them but desisted and waited beside parked automobiles which the two were trying to reach. Police struggled in vain to hold the cheering, pushing crowd in check. As well try to stop the surging waters at flood tide, from rushing up on the shore. Don Ames jumped from one of the escort planes as soon as it landed and circling about, approached the studio cars from the rear, executing a flank movement which brought him there at the same time as the heroes.

He grasped Clyde Dixon's arm and pulled him into a machine. "My name's Ames," he said hurriedly. "You remember me, don't you?"

Clyde looked at him dazedly, straightening the coat which had been disarranged in his strenuous passage. "Yeah... I guess I do." His face lighted. "Oh, sure, I remember now. Of course. You're Don Ames. I guess that mob's got me dizzy. Whew!"

"Listen. I want to make you a proposition. I'll handle your publicity for fifty bucks a week and ten per cent."

"Publicity?" Clyde repeated, staring.

"Yeah. There's nobody else managing you, is there?"

"No, but—"

"Okay, then, it's settled. From now on I'm your personal representative. Here come the reporters. Make your story good, Buddy. Whatever it is, make it good. I've got a radio contract ready for you to sign and you'll be telling it to the world."

before a campaign," said Hamilton in a formal statement.

He added he could have resigned his $25,000 a year post "long ago to my personal advantage but I have never run from a fight." In the nation, Hamilton called for "replacing the New Deal by a better deal."

Past Letter "M"

From bulging brief cases the St. Louis conferees sorted stacks of cards on which the proposed personnel of the steering committee had been listed—a card to each name and a brief biographical sketch of each person.

"We are past the letter 'M,'" said Hamilton.

It was generally understood that strong sentiment had developed for inclusion of two of the party's elder statesmen, Herbert Hoover and Charles G. Dawes, as well as Alf M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, in the general membership.

Color Marks Chickens' Sex

By breeding a Rhode Island Red rooster and a Light Sussex hen, Charles W. Knox, senior poultry geneticist of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, claims it is possible to distinguish the sex of day-old chicks by their color. The rooster will be white, the hen red, just like the year-old chickens Knox is pictured with at the Beltsville, Md., experimental station.

There was a brief boom for Thomas E. Dewey, New York racket buster and incoming district attorney, as program committee chairman, but friends were quick to point out that while Dewey might accept a place on the general group, he likely would be hesitant about taking the key post before his term in public office even opens.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified adv. columns.

Special Jury Turns To Administration

COLUMBUS, Dec. 14.—The special grand jury reached into Gov. Martin L. Davey's administration today for evidence in its investigation of alleged scandal in the state parole system.

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy announced he had requested testimony from Wray Bevens, the governor's secretary in charge of clemency and parole matters; Carl W. Smith, a member of the state civil service commission and former secretary of the state parole board; and Harry W. Jewell, recently appointed chairman of the board.

Bevens and Smith will be questioned Friday, Jewell, Thursday.

It was reliably reported three weeks ago that the attorney general would call on Governor Davey himself, as well as his personal secretary, Mrs. Myrna Smith, and Democratic state chairman Francis W. Poulson.

While saying he had not decided when to call the governor, Duffy disclosed the names of other prominent persons to be called in. They are Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, assistant welfare director under former Gov. George White; Congressman-at-Large John McSweeney, director under White; and John Harper, director under former Gov. Vic Donahey. No date for their appearance has been fixed.

RELIEF NEARING FINAL APPROVAL

The money would be appropriated from the state's general revenue fund direct to the state control board for allocation to counties on the basis of relief needs. The counties would have to return the money from future relief allotments at the rate of 10 per cent a month.

Bills expected to receive senate approval today would authorize county commissioners to issue short-term notes against anticipated $2,500,000 surplus utility excise tax revenues; authorize Ohio river counties to use $100,000 unexpended flood relief funds for poor relief, and freeing more than $400,000 in "frozen" relief funds. The house has approved all three measures.

Meanwhile the house finance committee had agreed to cut the "permanent" relief program from five years, as contemplated in the program prepared by the joint relief committee, to two years.

It adopted amendments limiting the one per cent utility excise tax and the one-half cent beer and beverage tax to two years, and allocating the $1,500,000 annual amusement tax for the same period.

Consider Supplement

The committee also continued consideration of the administration's $2,831,333 supplemental appropriation bill. It already has approved amendments raising the total well over $3,000,000.

Among the larger additions made to the supplemental budget were $149,000 for the state auditor, $60,000 for an eastern outlet for Buckeye lake, $34,087 for the civil service commission and $7,000 for the Cleveland American Legion foundation for equipping a boys camp.

The finance committee indicated that it may refuse to approve the administration's program insofar as it would make all state grants to the municipalities and townships instead of to the counties as contemplated by the joint committee's program.

House Democratic Leader Bishop Kilpatrick has asked the committee to amend the governor's proposal to make the county the relief unit instead of the townships and municipalities.

The governor's proposal would allocate the entire $7,500,000 which he proposed as the total state relief for next year, to the smaller local units. It also provides specifically for local matching of state grants.

Injured in Marine Depot Blaze

A fireman, hurt by falling timber, is shown being carried to a first aid station as flames destroyed the United States Marine Corps lumber shed on the Delaware River near Philadelphia. Only after four alarms had been turned in were the firemen able to get the blaze under control.

Hit "Nations in Nightshirts"

William Allen White, famous editor of the Emporia Gazette, Emporia, Kan., Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York City, and Secretary of the Interior Ickes are shown conversing at the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Civil Liberties Union in New York. Ickes, representing the President, addressed the meeting on "Nations in Nightshirts," in which he classed Fascism as a greater menace to America than the Ku Klux Klan.

Spring Byington and Jed Prouty as "The Joneses" in a Jones family picture, "Hot Water" at the State Wednesday and Thursday.

Two pictures, "Hot Water" and Joan Marsh and Marjorie Weaver, "King Solomon's Mines," will be seen on a double bill at the State Wednesday and Thursday.

Concluding tonight at the State is the Edward G. Robinson film, "The Last Gangster," which features James Stewart, Rose Stradner, Lionel Stander, Douglas Scott, John Carradine and Sidney Blackmer.

"Hot Water" shows Dad Jones tossing his hat in the ring in an attempt to clean up the town of Marysville. The pangs of civic conscience have convinced Dad that the town needs a reform administration, and the family thinks he is the man for the job.

Guns For Night Club

It is a notorious night-club running under what seems to be official immunity that fires the anger of Dad Jones, especially when his young son Jack begins to frequent the place. The campaign that follows seems to be a landslide for the Jones ticket until the owners of "The Red Mill" perpetrate a "frame-up" on young Jack. When the election seems lost, Roger Jones, embryonic newspaperman, turns up with the evidence exposing the crooks and the opposition party.

ast in their usual roles, Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Spring Byington, Russell Gleson, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan are featured with

Social Events In Lisbon

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed a turkey dinner Monday evening at the Legion home, celebrating a successful membership drive. The ladies divided into two teams at the start of the campaign, each side securing an equal number of members.

A Christmas exchange box will feature the meeting of the Eastern Star Wednesday evening in the lodge rooms. A coverdish supper will be served.

The Amity club will meet this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pike on Exchange st. Husbands of club members will be special guests. A turkey dinner is planned.

Wallace King, veteran's service representative, will be in Cleveland Wednesday on business, going from there to Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flugan have left for Florida where they will spend several weeks.

Home Decorators Are Given Chance To Make Efforts Pay

There are few Salem homes during the Christmas holiday season which do not have appropriate decorations of some kind, large or small, either inside or out.
Citizens generally spend much effort, depending upon the amount of time available, in this type of work because they like it.

JAPS APOLOGIZE TO BRITAIN, TOO

English Looking to President Roosevelt For Leadership

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 14. — Japanese Ambassador Shigeru Yoshida today apologized to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for Japanese attacks on two British gunboats in the Yangtze river Sunday.

This was the second official apology in two days for the incident, a military attaché having expressed regrets to the British war office yesterday.

The ambassador said his government was not yet in full possession of the facts, but was actively pressing inquiries.

The gunboats, the Ladybird and the Bee, were not seriously damaged.
Despite the apologies, Britain was understood to be preparing to dispatch a severe note to Tokyo, and Eden indicated he would make a new statement to the house of commons later in the day.

There were growing indications that the British government would look to President Roosevelt for leadership in the next move if protests fail to gain full satisfaction for the attacks on British and American vessels.

Reinforce F. D. R. Note
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — The United States government decided today to reinforce with a formal note President Roosevelt's demand for full satisfaction from Japan for the bombing of the American gun-boat Panay and three Standard Oil ships.

The note was expected to emphasize in greater detail and possibly in more forceful language the oral representations conveyed yesterday to Japanese Ambassador Hiroshi Saito on personal instructions from the President.

Mr. Roosevelt demanded, through the secretary of state, full indemnity for the loss of life and property involved, formal apologies from the Japanese government, and guarantees against future "indiscriminate bombing" of American shipping.

The President transmitted at the same time to the emperor of Japan an expression of "shock and concern." Only in rare instances does the head of a state address a message personally to another ruler in diplomatic incidents between nations.
Informed observers said only a desire to impress the entire Japanese nation as forcibly as possible with the gravity of the situation could have prompted President Roosevelt to adopt such unusual procedure.

Princess Elizabeth — Princess Margaret Rose
This delightful and informal camera study of Princess Elizabeth, 11, left, heir to the British throne, and her seven-year-old sister, Princess Margaret Rose, was taken by their father, King George VI, who is an amateur photographer of considerable ability.

region would be hampered by the legislation.

House leaders, buoyed by their success yesterday in defeating efforts to prevent consideration of the long-delayed bill, expressed confidence it would pass late in the week without substantial change.
They were more concerned about sentiment for sending the bill back to the labor committee for revision than about the proposals to revise it on the floor.

Here and There About Town

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hainan of South Lincoln ave., are the parents of a son, born this morning at Salem Central Clinic. Mrs. Hainan was formerly Miss Lella Beck.

A son was born Sunday night at the Clinic to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Alexander of Winona. Mrs. Alexander is the former Miss Esther Whinnery.

Mr. and Mrs. John England of 320 West Maple st., Lisbon, announce the birth of a son Monday afternoon at Salem Central Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eans of 145 West Maryland ave., Sebring, are the parents of a son born this morning in Salem City hospital.

In Mayor's Court

James Ewing of E. Pershing st., charged with assault and battery upon Atty. H. L. McCarthy, was fined $25 and costs when arraigned before Mayor George Harroff yesterday.

Eddie Tressler of Salem, charged by police with intoxication and disorderly conduct, forfeited a bond of $15.60.

C. H. Cook of Canton, arrested by the state patrol on a charge of reckless driving, was fined $15 and costs by the mayor yesterday.

Partition Set Afire

A hot stove pipe located too close to a partition caused a fire at the home of Charles Correll, 893 E.
Fourth st., at 8:38 a. m. today.
Firemen extinguished the blaze after the wau at the rear of the stove and part of the ceiling had been damaged.

The house is owned by Carl Bowman. A second truck was sent to the scene at 8:45 when a neighbor, seeing smoke, thought there was a second blaze.

Youth Is Arrested

A 16-year old Salem boy, arrested by police in connection with a bicycle theft, was taken to Lisbon Monday where juvenile court authorities sentenced him to an indefinite term in the boys' industrial school at Lancaster.

The stolen "bike" was owned by Robert Yates of 308 Ohio ave.

Accepts Position

James Corso, son of Mr. and Mrs.
August Corso, Sr., of East State st., has accepted a position in the bookkeeping department of Capital University of Columbus. He will take over his new duties the first of the year.

Hospital Notes

Joseph Robert Campbell of East Palestine has entered Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

William T. Keen of 518 East Fifth st., has been admitted to Salem
City hospital for medical treatment.

Brotherhood Meeting

The Brotherhood of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church will meet at 7:45 tonight at the home of J. A. Fehr of North Ellis-worth ave.

Auto Is Damaged

J. J. McCarthy of E. State st., told police a truck, operated by George Thompson of Canton, damaged his automobile downtown at 12:50 p. m. Monday.

Ministers Meet Wednesday

Salem Ministerial association will meet at 4 p. m. Wednesday at the Memorial building.

The minority so long as it continues its conflict.

Bonfire Symbolizes Battle

The address of President Green, the outstanding event of the day,
was made to a gathering of executives in the pottery industry at the Travelers' hotel, a few hours before the colorful parade of 3,000 workers through the streets of the community, with 24 floats, expressive of the community's sentiments for boycott.

The parade was started off by a flaring signal from Dietrich's hill overlooking the town. There a huge pile of boxes labeled as of foreign manufacture was fired by members of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters to symbolize their battle to preserve their livelihood.

The unity of purpose between capital and labor in the pottery industry to work mutual benefit was given expression by Captain F. X.
A. Eble, general manager of the
Made-in-America Club, Inc., of New York, commissioner of customs in the Hoover administration, at several meetings during the day.

"Bill Green," he told pottery executives, "should get down on his knees and thank God the Potters' association is a member of the AFL and not the CIO."

Example for Employers

"If all manufacturers adopted the same principles of relations to labor as the potters, you wouldn't have any CIO, any anarchy, any hours and wages law."

"Unless there is peace in the labor world," warned Eble, "we're going to see the greatest depression the world has ever had."

Eble later at a meeting of townspeople in the Ceramic theater, denounced the pact between Lewis and Myron C. Taylor of the United States Steel Corp., as a weapon of the steel trust to destroy independent competition.

Green Attacks Wage Bill

In his remarks, President Green attacked as unsound in principle and application the hours-wages bill now before congress. The AFL, he said, wants a sound economic measure that will raise the standard of living throughout the country and not in certain localities as political expediency demands.

"The AFL," said Green, "is sick and tired of the board created by the administration to do with relations of employer and employee.
It is sick of annoyances and never-ending investigation and fixing of rates, not on a realistic basis, but on political influence."

Discussing the CIO schism in AFL ranks, Green said: "We deplore this division within the ranks of labor and we wish the breach might be healed to the advantage of industry and labor."

Green, although never referring to Lewis by name, recalled that the dissenters in AFL ranks had been outvoted in the Atlantic City convention and "should be good sports enough to abide by that decision and parliamentary rules."

After the parade, Green again spoke to a packed house in the Ceramic theater. "The Japanese are genuinely alarmed at the American boycott of their merchandise.
The Federation, in line with the British Trade Union Congress, proposed to carry out the boycott vigorously as long as Japanese aggression in China continues."

Asks $300 Damages

LIBSON, Dec. 14.—Joel A. Cobbs, Salem, asks $300 damages from Thomas Hilton, R. D. 1, Salem, as the result of an auto accident, in a petition filed Monday in common pleas court.

Cobbs states the accident occurred
Dec. 3, 1936, on Ellsworth rd., near Salem. He claims he was driving a truck north on this highway when the defendant's car, approaching from the opposite direction, collided with his machine. The plain-tiff's truck, he says, was damaged to the amount mentioned.

A Realistic Job

McCook, Neb.—Mrs. Peter Karthauser is one of the best window washers and polishers in her neighborhood.

When she finished washing a window in the front room of her home, it apparently was invisible to a strange dog. The animal jumped through the window and landed in the parlor amid shattered glass.

New Trial Granted In Basinger Suit

LIBSON, Dec. 14.—Judge W. B.
Lones this morning sustained a motion for a new trial in the case of Robert Basinger of R. D. 2, Colum-biana, vs. Walter Yarian of New Waterford, who is suing for injuries as the result of a traffic accident.

The judge granted the motion on the ground that a previous verdict was contrary to evidence presented.

Basinger, through his father, E.
C. Basinger, filed a petition Aug. 20, 1934, asking $20,000 damages for injuries he said he received when struck by Yarian's car on the New Waterford-Columbiana road, June 25, 1934.

A jury returned a verdict for $5,000 in favor of the plaintiff last June 10.

SALEM-BOARDMAN TILT CHANGED TO LOCAL GYM

CLASS B CAGE TEAMS LAUNCH 1937-38 DRIVE

Columbians, Reich Trojans, Trades Class, Saxons Are Winners

First victories of the 1937-38 basketball season were held by four Class B teams today following the opening games in the 10-team Class B league at the Memorial building last night.

The Columbians, Reich Trojans, Trades Class and Saxons chalked up wins in the opening program. The Class A circuit will start its schedule with two games at the Memorial gym tonight. Two Class B games are also on tonight's card.

The Columbians gained the most lopsided triumph of the first night when they walloped the Christians, 23 to 6. Panzette led the Columbian scoring with seven points.

The Christians trailed far behind throughout the contest, after going scoreless in the first period while the Columbians were tallying seven points.

The Saxons were pressed hard for three quarters before they came through with a 22 to 10 victory over the Baptists.

A fourth quarter rally in which they scored 10 points gave the Saxons the victory. The Baptists were blanked in the final period after playing the Saxons to a deadlock in the first, second and third quarters.

Whit's Garage staged a close battle with the Trades Class, but dropped the decision 15 to 11 in one of the best games of the evening. The Tradesmen were trailing throughout the first three periods, although there was never a wide difference between the two teams' scores.

In another close contest, the Reich Trojans edged out a 15 to 13 win over Demings. The Trojans led at the end of the first quarter, 4 to 2, but trailed, 8 to 11, at halftime. They pulled out in front again in the third period and held their lead throughout the final stanza.

As Redskins Annexed Pro Title

Baugh hitting line

Aided by the phenomenal performance of Sammy Baugh, former Texas Christian star, the Washington Redskins defeated the Chicago Bears, 28-21, to annex the professional grid title for 1937 before a crowd of 15,000 in Chicago. Baugh, shown running with the ball, completed 17 out of 34 passes, directly accounting for three touchdowns and figuring importantly in the fourth.

Katherine Rawls Selected Leading Feminine Athlete

Diminutive Florida Swimming Champion Honored in Associated Press Annual Sports Poll

(NOTE: This is the second in a series analyzing the seventh annual Associated Press sports poll. It covers opinions as to the year's outstanding feminine performers.)

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Katherine (Kitty) Rawls, diminutive Florida swimming queen who captured six national titles this year, achieved the added distinction today of being rated the No. 1 athlete of the year among feminine competitors in the seventh annual Associated Press sports poll.

The 18-year-old aquatic star won the closest voting contest in the history of the poll, participated in by the nation's leading sports writers. Only one point separated Miss Rawls from her two closest rivals, Anita Lizana of Chile, the new holder of the United States tennis title, and Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., the national golf champion.

Miss Rawls led in first place votes, with 11, to Miss Lizana's 10 and Mrs. Page's eight. Tabulation of points, on a 3-2-1 basis as each expert rated three women performers in the order of preference, gave Miss Rawls the No. 1 honors, with 53. Miss Lizana and Mrs. Page had 52 points each.

Although this trio dominated the balloting, the 41 participating experts gave mention to the performances of 21 feminine headlines, including Sonja Henie, Babe Didrikson, and Eleanor Holm Jarrett. Miss Didrikson, now concentrating on professional golf, was winner of the 1932 poll.

MT. UNION WINS OVER FINDLAY

Purple Gains 35-21 Victory After Close First Half

(By Associated Press)
Mount Union college and Capital university scored victories over Findlay and Denison last night to inaugurate their 1937-38 Ohio conference schedules.

Mount Union walloped Findlay at Alliance, 35 to 21—the Orange-White fourth consecutive defeat despite the season's youth. A hard-fought first half ended with the Purple only a single point ahead, 14 to 13.

Capital's slashing offense resulted in a 42 to 32 triumph over Denison at Columbus. At half-time Capital led 25 to 12.

Weaver, Sophomore forward, paced the victors with an individual total of 21 points. Personal fouls benched two players from each quintet.

Bluffton swamped Tri-State college by a 41 to 26 count at Bluffton. The Bluffton basketballs held a 19 to 12 advantage at the rest period.

Xavier, of Cincinnati, was humbled by Purdue university at Lafayette, Ind., 56 to 32. Wittenberg journeyed to Pittsburgh where Duquesne managed to cage sufficient points in the last minutes of play to win by a 39 to 34 score.

Burns Up Course

Johnny Revolta, shown during the course of his par-shattering play at the Miami-Biltmore tourney in Florida, set a hot pace for the field of crack golfers who were entered for the rich $10,000 prize.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Mike Jacobs looked over his near sell-out and said: "Well, I hope them boy-cotters don't feel hurt." ... Impression at the ringside was Max could have polished off Thomas any time he wanted to, but Max insisted his timing was so bad he had to go slow.

Biggest surprise of the evening was to hear the popular Jimmy Braddock booped by a few fans when he entered the ring to be introduced.

Joe Louis, filled to the adenoids with good fried chicken, was just about to drop off to sleep when Schmeling began firing rights in the sixth.

Joe sat up and took plenty of notice from then on. ... He knew just how Thomas was feeling.

Not that it means a darn thing one way or another, but a gal named Rose Bowles got a marriage license in Reno the other day. ... When he was here with the Washington Redskins a week ago, Dixie Howell, former Alabama star, made a hit with the patrons of a Greenwich Village joint by acting as starter for a turtle race.

Here's another item that may not mean anything, but one New York newspaper reports there's a "For Sale" sign on the house of Judge Stephen McKeever, half owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Cuba is bidding for Henry Armstrong to go down there and fight Kid Chocolate. ... The South-eastern conference, which placed teams in three of the four major "Bowl" games New Year's day, rates some sort of honorable mention, doesn't it? ... Harry Thomas really is owned by James Norris, Jr., vice president of the Detroit Hockey Red Wings, but Norris doesn't figure in the management, leaving all those headaches to the suave and astute Nate Lewis. ... Georgia is reported to be very much interested in Harry Kipke.

Max Schmeling won't go into a fight in this country unless Doc Casey of Detroit is in his corner. ... The Doc is one of the best seconds in the biz. ... Roy Shudt, of the Troy (N. Y.) Times-Record, wants to know if any High school footballer ran more than 106 yards for a touchdown last season.

Jimmy Nelson of Lansingburg did that against Scotia and Shudt thinks it may be tops.

LOUIS CLAIMS HE WILL BEAT GERMAN BOXER

Champion Sees Der Max Win; Then Says He'll Defeat Uhlan

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Joe Louis, the cocoa-colored champion, is not a man easily impressed.

He sat dead-panned in Madison Square Garden last night while Max Schmeling knocked Harry Thomas daffy as a dervish in eight rounds, and all Joe had to say was: "If I can't whip that Schmeling the next time I don't ever want to see another pair of boxing gloves."

Joe might have been whistling in the dark. Schmeling, to the lay eye, had looked like a truly great fighter as he toyed with Thomas in the early rounds and then methodically chopped him to the canvas with lightning rights. But Louis sounded exactly like he meant it.

So did his dusky manager, old Jack Blackburn: "All I hope is that nothin' happens to that date we got with Schmeling next June," he said.

Nothing, apparently, is going to happen to that date. Over 16,000 customers jostled their way into the Garden last night, ignoring the exhortations of the anti-Nazi pickets who paraded before the doors.

Most of them seemed to be there to cheer Schmeling. The ovation given the ex-champion as he entered the ring brought a broad smile to his face that departed only fleetingly as he worked on Thomas.

While beaten by a much superior fighter, Thomas was far from disgraced. He hit the canvas for the sixth time in the eighth round before Referee Arthur Donovan escorted him, rubber-legged, to his corner. He didn't know a thing by that time, but he still wanted to battle.

The long 18-month lay-off since he stopped Louis appeared not to have affected Schmeling's timing or the lethal power of his right once he got himself unlimbered. He let his wild-swinging opponent carry the fight to him and bided his time. Thomas, in fact, connected sufficiently to win three of the first five rounds.

It wasn't until the sixth that Max, moving around easily, unhurriedly, began cracking Harry on the whiskers. He said afterward that he had found the Eagle Bend, Minn., product harder to tag with a right than he did Louis. But once he got the range it was all over.

Allen awarded Hurling Honor

Gomez Also Named One Of Leading Pitchers Of American Loop

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez of New York, the fellow they said was "through" a year or so ago, and Johnny Allen of Cleveland divided individual pitching honors during the past American league season, official averages showed today.

The statistics awarded Gomez the junior circuit's earned run leadership. Appearing in 34 games, the Yankee southpaw, who won 21 and lost 11, allowed only 23 runs per contest, the lowest in the league since 1934. Allen, who won 15 games and lost only one, and that the final game of the season, compiled the highest won-and-loss percentage in the circuit's history.

Having previously won his last two games of the 1936 season, Allen's brilliant performance gave him a streak of 17 consecutive victories. Jake Wade of Detroit beat him 1 to 0 with a two hit performance in the last game of the 1937 schedule. Allen's record supplanted that set by Bob Grove, who won 31 and lost 4 for Philadelphia in 1930.

While pacing the Yankees to the championship, in a brilliant comeback, Gomez was the only pitcher in the league to win more than 20 games. The other 20-game winner in the junior circuit was "Red" Ruffing, also of the Yankees, who suffered only seven setbacks.

COLUMBIANA

Dr. H. F. Campbell has purchased the F. C. Maurer property, North Main st. and will take possession early in February, when the Maurer family expects to move to their farm near North Lima. The farm residence has been greatly improved by remodeling since its purchase several months ago.

The following members of the local Methodist church attended the North-East Ohio Missionary conference of the Youngstown-Stuebenville districts at Youngstown Thursday evening: Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Mrs. T. B. Hyland, Mrs. Alice Magill, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Basinger, Lauren Detwiler and Misses Eleanor Harrold, Helen Fuhrman and Virginia Patchen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lemley have moved from McKeesport, Pa., and are occupying their new home, situated in the rear of the Vaughn hatchery, east of town. Mr. Lemley will continue his employment at McKeesport, spending the weekends here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Harrold and daughters Myrna and Donna expect to leave Saturday, Dec. 18, to spend four weeks touring the state of Florida.

REVOLTA WINS GOLF TOURNEY

Evanston Golfer First In Rich Biltmore Golf Event

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 14.—A six-year ambition to win the Miami open golf championship satisfied Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., banked a $2,500 check here today where he scored his first big time golf success.

Back in 1932 Revolta—unheralded in a field of the nation's best money golfers—finished second in the big $10,000 tournament.

He has won many a tournament since, including the 1935 P. G. A. championship, but none gave greater satisfaction than yesterday when, standing 20 feet from the cup over the 72nd green, he putted into the cup for a 282 total and first place.

Jimmy Thomson, the Shawnee siege gun, and Dick Metz of Chicago, tied at 283 and split second and third money, each collecting $1,125.

Another notch back—at 284 for fourth money of $750—came Sam Sneed, the slugger from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who likewise finished with a 73.

Horton Smith of Chicago won fifth money, $650, with a 285.

Revolta and most of the other pros agreed the 14-club rule, enforced in this tournament by agreement, made little or no difference in the scoring. Revolta, in fact, used only 11 of the clubs in his bag yesterday.

The golfing caravan heads next for the Bahamas, where the $4,000 Nassau open will begin Saturday.

Speedy Ladybird

Lovely Jane Topping showed members of her New York social set that night clubs aren't necessary for fast stepping. She is shown at the control of her plane in which she flew from Detroit to New York in two hours and twenty minutes—an unofficial record.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Ohio Edison and Reich Sports, leaders in the American Bowling League, took it on the chin at the Masonic temple alleys last night as Mullins Press Room won three from the Edisonites and the Electric Furnace took three from the Sports.

By reason of its three victories, the Press Room pulled up into a tie for first place with the Edison team. Dominick Callatone and Henry DeRienzo paced the Press Room to its important victories; Callatone hitting 624 and DeRienzo 625.

The leading Colonial Billiards of the Quaker City League slipped a notch at the Grate alleys last night when they lost two out of three games to the Golden Eagles.

The defeats cut the Billiards lead over the second-place Althouse Motors to four games. Bill Wagner of the Tigers turned in a 245 single game for the best score at the Grate alleys last night.

Parliament Named By Soviet Russia

MOSCOW, Dec. 14.—Soviet Russia had a Stalinist parliament today, elected by a turnout, apparently, of virtually all the nation's 90 million voters in the first secret direct election in the 20 years of the Communist regime.

The election commission announced preliminary reports indicated at least 95 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls.

Few candidates for the 1,143 seats in the two-chamber parliament were opposed. There was no early tabulation of returns or announcement of results, even in what few districts might have had contests among candidates equally loyal to the regime of Joseph Stalin.

Testing New Aircraft Cannon

B. P. Joyce, of East Orange, N. J., is shown in the nacelle at the controls of his new aircraft cannon, which fires shells of 1.1 pounds filled with TNT. The new gun is said to be of extreme lightness and great power. It will be tried out at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds of the Ordnance Corps.

Production Listed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 — The treasury listed today Ohio's distilled spirits production in the fiscal year ended June 30 at 6,592,481 tax gallons, withdrawals from bonded warehouses at 4,411,430 gallons and stocks remaining, 16,822,665 gallons.

Camps Are Listed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — Four Ohio civilian conservation corps camps were included in 104 announced today by Robert Fechner, CCC director, to be closed before Dec. 31. The Ohio units were Stout, Delaware, Hamilton and Brecksville. Fechner said enrollees would be transferred to other camps.

May Buy It Back

COLUMBUS, Dec. 14. — Hunters whose equipment was confiscated because of game law violations can buy it back at prices set by the state conservation department, Commissioner Lawrence Wooddell said today in reporting more arrests this year than last.

Reminder Is Sent To Italy by League

GENEVA, Dec. 14.—The League of Nations today reminded Italy her dramatic resignation could not be effective for two years under the terms of the league covenant.

A telegram to "the minister of foreign affairs, Rome," stated that a member after two years' notice of intention "may withdraw from the league provided all its international obligations and all its obligations under the covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal."
